29	No
30	N/A
31	Not sure, you guys offer so many great classes already.
32	SketchUp Courses for ID
33	Math 270 is a course that you should offer. Again as I said before, Math 270 and Math 275 are series, which means the student has to take them at the same "institution" for UC transfer. Since I took Math 270 at College of San Mateo, I can't take Math 275 at Canada College and will have to take it at San Mateo. This causes problems during registration because I have many time conflicts between classes at Canada College and College of San Mateo.

- 380 Foreign languages. At least beginners courses in languages like Mandarin, Japanese, Italian, etc. ¶
I took Japanese in High school and forgot a lot of it, and taking a class here would probably help me catch up for when I transfer and pick up the language again.
- 381 Pharmacy Technician, lab technician and surgical technician
- 382 I'm not sure. I would hate for costs to go up. I know there are things offered at the other colleges that you probably don't want to overlap. I would like to see the GIS (geographical information sciences) courses offered or a program like the one at Santa Rosa Junior College. That college has a lot of very good majors for a junior college. I realize this is a small college, but I think it has the capability to create some good majors. Also, a geology major or surveyor major (also at SRJC). Majors that create employability that are in demand. I'm not sure if this college has a good communications major, but that would be great. I think the kids these days (I am a parent of an 18 year old that also attends Canada) do not have great speaking skills, possibly because of social media. Also, I think grammar classes should be mandatory. The high schools don't teach grammar. Ultrasound technology is good, but I'm not sure of the demand. I would love to have a job here at Canada analyzing what's in demand and creating classes around those careers using courses that are already available and adding only what is necessary. Again, I would be looking at other colleges, especially those like Santa Rosa JC. Real Estate appraisal would be another good certificate. Creative writing or Business writing certificates. I don't think the young people get enough education in that area and it is critical for an education. I think if young people were better writers college would be easier for them and there would be less drop outs. That is my personal opinion. In high school I took shorthand, which required heavy study of vocabulary and grammar. I didn't realize it at the time but that class prepared me tremendously for college English classes. I wasn't planning to go to college.
- 383 Administration of Justice
- 384 No, so far you offer all the classes I need for my AS
- 385 can't think of any courses at this time.
- 386 You should include some software-specific Adobe classes in the multimedia dept., like "Advanced After Effects" or something. Also, maybe an HTML 5 programming class for web design
- 387 A program that may interest students would be a Engineering program with a full length of classes. Just like the Nursing program that is provided by SF state, perhaps we could have one for STEM students.
- 388 Improve the Business department and courses about Finance and Investments
- 389 3D CAD program for interior designers. e.g. Rev It!
- 390 More online business classes
- 391 Criminal Justice classes! Law and order or criminal justice or just a plain law class!

422 n/a

424 No.

425 I think you should offer Latino studies.

426 I think you guys should offer some Criminal Justice classes here for students to explore.

430 N/A

431 pottery would be cool

432 More CWA.

433 I feel strongly that an Advanced PAD (computerized pattern design) class should be offered. The beginning class is not enough to help get a technical job in the industry.

434 Something that is specifically designed for ECE majors; a program that supports their academic achievement, helps build work portfolios, helps with course guidance (so we don't take classes we don't need), etc.

435 Auto cad. 3d printing.
