Running head: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF CODES

The Psychology of Western Military Codes

Abstract

Codes have been used for thousands of years. While “codes” is a general term that is acceptable to describe all kinds of hidden meanings, really there are two important concepts to know. A cipher mixes the letters themselves, while a code mixes up the message on a word level. Although codes were originally developed for military purposes, civilians have borrowed encoding techniques for a wide variety of purposes including love letters and computer languages.
Block Quotations

Quotations that are 40 words or longer need to be set apart in a block. They should be double spaced and indented 1/2" from the left margin. Quotation marks are not used with block quotations, and the final punctuation is placed before the in-text citation (p.92).

Text (p.44)

Headings

Headings help you organize the text for readers. The five levels of headings are all the same font size, arranged as follows (p.62):

- Level 1: Centered, Boldface, Uppercase and Lowercase Heading
- Level 2: Flush Left, Boldface, Uppercase and Lowercase Heading.
- Level 3: Indented, boldface, lowercase paragraph heading ending with a period.
- Level 4: Indented, boldface italicized, lowercase paragraph ending with a period.
- Level 5: Indented, italicized, lowercase paragraph heading ending with a period.

If the paper uses only 2 levels, use Level 1 and 2; if the paper uses 3 levels, use Level 1, 2, and 3; and so forth. *This sample uses 2 levels.

In-Text Citations

The basic format for an in-text citation is (Last name of author, year of publication, page number). For a direct quotation, always include the page number; if paraphrasing or summarizing, you are encouraged to include the page number, but it is not required. For help with citing specific sources, see pages 174-179 in the APA Publication Manual, 6th ed.

---

Citing Secondary Sources

To cite information that your source has taken from a different source, put the original author of the information in the text and write “as cited in” in your in-text citation followed by the author and date of the work where the material was found (p.178).
In addition to citing sources within a text, APA requires a References page. The following guidelines will help you correctly format some of the most commonly used sources. For further information, refer to Chapter 7 of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th edition. Remember the following as you cite sources for APA:

- Article titles should not be italicized or put in quotation marks.
- Only the first word of the article title, subtitle, or proper nouns should be capitalized.
