Cañada College Promise Scholars Program

“The Promise Scholars Program Team genuinely cares for its students and is extremely supportive”

cañada college PROMISE SCHOLARS PROGRAM

The Promise Scholars Program provides financial, academic and personalized student services including dedicated counseling and transportation assistance for first-time college students who enroll at Cañada College full-time to earn a certificate or degree. The program is based on the ASAP model developed by the City University of New York which has doubled graduation rates.

The Promise Scholars Program at Cañada College has seen clear success with its first cohort of 327. Beginning in Fall 2018, the Promise Scholars Program began the process to replicate the ASAP model, implementing key components of the CUNY program and expanding to serve 500 students in the Fall 2018 and Fall 2019 cohort.

Notes

cañada college PROMISE SCHOLARS PROGRAM

“The Cañada College Promise Scholars Program has helped me more than just financially. This program genuinely cares for all their students and are extremely supportive. I can always count on my counselor, Chai, to talk about my transfer and personal goals. She is an amazing and very knowledgeable counselor. Marisol has shown me how much Promise truly wants all students to succeed, which is much needed when living in the Bay Area. Without the Promise Scholars Program, I most likely would’ve been thousands of dollars in debt, and not have met such amazing faculty, staff, and students with similar goals!”

“This program genuinely
for all their students...”

- Karolyn Paz-Rubio, Promise Scholarship Recipient
